HEAVY TOLL IS TAKEN BY GREAT TEXAS FLOOD

TWO THOUSAND ARE HOMELESS IN FORT WORTH

Seventeen Lives Reported Lost as Trinity River Floods Town.

CRISIS NOT PAST

River Still Rising as Heavy Rains Continue to Drench Region.

Fort Worth, Texas, April 26.—The crest of the flood which swept sections of this city yesterday had passed today.

As the water began to lower, hundreds of workers began a search for bodies. None had been recovered at noon but it was estimated the list of dead in the flooded area would mount close to 50.

The Trinity river had dropped over six feet this afternoon. It reached a record mark of 39.1 feet.

City water service was restored today.

Fort Worth, Texas, April 26.—Loss of 17 lives, approximately 2,500 rendered homeless and property damage that will run into the millions is the toll of Fort Worth's greatest flood which has raged since Tuesday morning. Rescue workers, under the direction of the Fort Worth chapter of the American Red Cross, combed portions of the flooded area for bodies Wednesday morning without success. Augmenting with additional heavy rains, flood waters continued to rise today and officials here pronounced the situation more grave than Tuesday when the Trinity river first started on its rampage.

As the search for the bodies, continued a grand jury investigation was remanded on charges by John J. McMan, chairman of the levee board, that the dikes had been dynamited Monday night, causing the breaks through which the flood reached many sections of the city.

With the river still rising, threatening to spread out in the lowlands, Major L. G. White, leader of the rescue work, issued a call early this morning for several hundred more volunteer workers to perform rescue work. His appeal was quickly answered.

Ben K. Keith, directing the rescue work of the local chapter, of the American Red Cross reported the Red Cross workers had the situation well in hand and that no outside assistance was needed.

Washington, April 26.—The congressional fight over the size of the United States navy will pop up again in the house this week but it is expected to be devoid of most of the fire works that featured it before.

Members of the house naval affairs committee laid their plans today for getting quick action on the bill to give the president authority to scrap the thirty capital ships which the government agreed to dispose of under the terms of the Washington conference.

WITNESSES IN MINERS' CASE GIVE UP ARMS

Dramatic Development In Trials In West Virginia Occurs.

Charleston, W. Va., April 26.—Demand for search of state witnesses for fire arms was expected free from the defense as a dramatic development in the miners' trials when court met this morning.

James Mason, of Counsel for the United Mine Workers, asked the Charleston police chief to investigate a report that certain state witnesses were carrying arms. That officials of Logan and other counties having pistol licenses were armed was understood. While these officials, under the law, have a right to keep their pistols the defense was preparing to ask Judge J. N. Wood to disarm all persons except court officers during the time they are within court, Mason indicated.

Following the election of the prosecution to try William Blizard, alleged "generalissimo of the miners' army," the court required the state to file a bill of particulars which would specifically indicate what overt acts of treason are charged against the defendants. The bill of particulars becomes part of the indictment.

The state was preparing to hand this statement to the court when it reconvened this morning. Preparations for the selection of a jury were expected to be under way before court adjourned this afternoon.

SENATE COMMITTEE STILL SPLIT ON SOLDIERS' BONUS PROPOSALS

McCumber Pressing New Plan While Smoot Fights for Paid Up Insurance Policy Proposal—Others Favor Cash Settlement.

Washington, April 26.—Republican members of the senate finance committee were still split today on the various soldiers' bonus proposals.

Senator McCumber of North Dakota, the committee chairman, was pressing his new bonus plan, which he appeared confident would ultimately provide a "satisfactory solution" of the tangled situation.

Senator Smoot of Utah, said that the McCumber plan had not altered his intentions to carry his fight for his paid up insurance policy proposal to the senate floor if a majority of the committee refused to accept it.

Smoot's proposal would eliminate all cash compensation, McCumber would provide cash for ex-service men entitled to $1100 or less according to the length of their service in the world war.

Senator Bursum of New Mexico, chairman of the senate pensions committee was among a number of senators who declared that they were in favor of all ex-service men being paid in cash outright on the basis of $1 a day for home service and $1.25 a day for overseas service, no matter how long or short their service, or how much they were entitled to.

Musom estimated that only $1,500,000 would be required to "pay the boys' spot cash and send them away satisfied."

Smoot argued that his insurance plan would afford ex-service men and their families "better protection" against the future. He figured that $4,500,000,000 would provide them all with paid up insurance policies to mature at the end of twenty years.

On the basis of an ex-service man being entitled to $500 cash compensation, such a policy, Smoot explained, would be worth about $2,100 when the twenty years was up, or if its holder died in the meantime.

SEAPLANE MISSING WITH 6 PASSENGERS OFF FLORIDA COAST

Commercial Plane Nina, Searching for Santa Maria.

Key West, Fla., April 26.—A naval seaplane today reported having sighted the seaplane Santa Maria, which left here Monday for Nassau with six persons, at Williams Island, at 11:20 o'clock this morning.

The Santa Maria, the report said, was out of gasoline.

Key West, Fla., April 26.—The commercial seaplane Nina left this port at daybreak this morning to follow the regular air route to search for the missing Santa Maria, big seaplane which is missing with her six passengers. The Ponce De Leon, another commercial plane, left Nassau at the same time to proceed toward Key West and search islands for some trace of the flying boat which left here at 6 a. m. Monday for Nassau.

The Ponce De Leon started on its quest for the missing boat yesterday, flying from here to Nassau. She arrived there late yesterday reporting no trace of the party.

Aboard the plane when she left Key West were E. A. Lowes, Leslie Curry, Pharmacist; Pilots Ed Musick of San Francisco and E. G. Richardson, of Buffalo N. Y. and Gertrude Gillen, a former employee in the office of the company owning the Santa Maria, at Havana.

They were going to bring back Duke Schiller, an airplane pilot, who was attacked and beaten on a recent trip to Nassau when he was accused of being a prohibition enforcement agent. Schiller has been unconscious since the attack.

Officials of the company who operates the Santa Maria hold to the belief that the plane may have descended in the vicinity of Andros Island, and a thorough search will be made there today. The tender Wright of the Atlantic Air Squadron, left early today to search the gulf stream.

The Santa Maria is a six ton boat and capable of riding out heavy weather.

SMASH UP OF ARMED NEUTRALITY ALONG ULSTER BORDER THREATENS

Genoa Conference Held Together By Lloyd George

Only Deft Touch of British Premier Keeps Meeting From Breaking Up—Germany Denounces France In Reply To Threat.

GENOA, April 26.—Only the deft, conciliatory touch of Lloyd George, and the fear of world opinion and world reactions should a break come on the sharp issues outlined by leaders during the week, holds the Genoa conference together today.

The British premier has followed the authorized denial that Britain is secretly teaming with Russia in any way, by an indirect message to the Russian delegates, through discussions for publication by his aides, that he has lost patience with the spirit of haggling. He holds the greatest balance of power and by far the strongest strategic position.

He has admonished publicly the chief obstructionists of the present economic conference and it is pretty generally realized here today that, hand in hand with the public utterances from the British delegation, have gone the silent, "back door" methods of conciliation.

The very complete stoppage of the machinery of the conference brought about, by the fact that the experts have exhausted most of the questions with which they can deal and have run into political obstacles which can be decided only by the premiers or foreign ministers, has given ample opportunity for informal diplomatic conversation.

BERLIN, April 26.—Germany's first official reaction to the threat, of Premier Poincare that France would proceed independently against Germany if the latter fails in her May 31 reparations obligations, was a denunciation of France today.

A semi-official statement from Wilhelmstrasse declared the action threatened by Poincare would constitute violation of the Versailles treaty which only provides for joint action by the allies in the event of German failure to meet her obligations.

START MAN HUNT AFTER SHOOTING IN OHIO VILLAGE

Tenant Seriously Wounded His Landlord at Point Pleasant.

Point Pleasant, Ohio, April 25.—The people of this village this morning left off their preparations to receive President Warren G. Harding and began a man hunt over the countryside for John Eldridge, tenant who shot and seriously wounded his landlord, J. M. Thatcher, late Monday afternoon. On the eve of the visit of the nation's executive, who will deliver the Grant centennial address here tomorrow, the village broke its 25 years record as a law abiding community when Mr. Thatcher, accompanied by Marshal J. B. Henderson and two deputies, went to the house Eldridge rented and attempted to evict him for failure to pay his rent.

The tenant seized a shot gun and fired once at Thatcher, his landlord who was standing between the two deputies. The charge blew half of Thatcher's face away. In the confusion which followed, Eldridge escaped into the hills.

Colonel Peter Traub, commandant at Fort Thomas, Ky., and chief of police William Copelan of Cincinnati, who were here arranging for the visit of the president, tomorrow, organized a posse and a man hunt for Eldridge was instituted. The hunt was resumed this morning, about one fourth of the village's 100 citizens participating. Local officials believe Eldridge, who was a recluse, is in hiding in the woods near here.

Thatcher is in a serious condition at a Cincinnati hospital.

MORE TROUBLES IN STORE FOR TORN COUNTRY

Agreement Which Has Prevented Open Warfare May End.

CRISIS AT HAND

Nation Faces Worst Situation In Long Stormy History.

London, April 26.—A smash up of the state of armed neutrality which has existed along the border between Ulster and the Irish free state was indicated in a communique issued in Dublin today.

The statement issued by the free state government, according to the Exchange Telegraph, foreshadows the ending of the March 30 agreement which had prevented open border warfare after weeks of skirmishes by small bands.

The Dublin statement charged that Ulster had failed to carry out its agreements and therefore no further endeavors to cooperate with Ulster would be made. It followed closely on the heels of a report that the negotiations between Michael Collins and Premier Sir James Craig had reached a deadlock.

Should the state of truce between north and south Ireland come to an end the island would face a complication of troubles such as it has not known in all its stormy history.

The south is today divided against itself, there being two camps, the free staters and republicans. Labor is agitating and coordinating its forces and threatens to become a distinct third party.

All factions are armed.

Dublin, April 26.—The "truce conference" which it had been hoped would today reach an agreement ending the conflict between free state and republican forces in southern Ireland, adjourned late this afternoon until Saturday, having failed to reach a satisfactory peace formula.

Leaders of the laborites, who on Monday held a demonstration strike against the methods of leaders of both sides, this afternoon attempted to mediate between the Griffith and Devalera parties.

The free state chief of staff today issued a statement claiming that 75 per cent of the army is loyal to the new government, but declares that attacks against free staters and the seizing of property continues.

The cold blooded murder of Gen. Adamson yesterday is causing the most bitter feeling against the mutineers and free staters today claimed this killing had added support to their cause.

HAND OF WOMAN NEEDED IN POLITICS

New York, April 26.—The world needs the hand of women in politics. It needs peace and it needs the moral leadership of America. Lady Nancy Astor, the first English woman to be seated in parliament told guests at the annual luncheon of the Associated Press at the Waldorf Astoria yesterday afternoon.

In picturesque short sentences she outlined in the core of her creed.

"I am striving to take in public life the pearl of great price, what a man gets from his mother or his wife—unselfishness, vision, courage and cleanliness," Lady Astor said.

"We know what's not practical—war. I hope we have all learned that lesson."

"What is it that the world needs in a practical way to do? Work."

WILL REMOVE BABIES FROM COLONY OF LEPROS

Manila, April 26.—Returning from an inspection journey through the southern islands, which included the Culion leper colony, Governor General Leonard Wood announced that 200 children born of leper parents would be brought to Manila within a few days.

The children are two and three years old, but are free from leprosy.

It was the intention of the constabulary to establish a separate colony on Culion Island for the children, but experts of the Rockefeller Foundation, who visited the island of a prison sentence in Missouri. It was more feasible to bring them to he was arrested and identified as a fugitive. "Crime doesn't pay," he said today.

They will be placed in a public orphanage until danger of their developing the disease has passed.

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS WILL NOT SWING BIG STICK

Politics Will Not Be Entered in Congressional Elections.

Baltimore, Md., April 26.—Congress may breathe more easily today. The league of women voters, with its seven million women votes, will not, as an organization, use the big stick on candidates in the next congressional election.

For fear politics may wreck the league, its leader have given out the word that the organization's "hands off" policy must be continued.

According to the program, if a resolution is introduced or an amendment to the constitution offered to permit action opposing or endorsing candidates, it will be tabled.

This comes straight from Mary Garrett Hay, of New York, one of the powers in the organization. "From what I have learned, the national officers do not want any action taken on the proposal to endorse or oppose political candidates," Miss Hays told the caucus of the New York state delegation.

Low priced good stocks present splendid opportunities. Optimistic investors are taking advantage of present low prices on various good stocks, to buy additional shares of companies in which they now have holdings, thereby lowering the per-share-cost of their investment. They have placed their buying orders with the thought that the present low market prices reflect the earning powers rather than the intrinsic values of the securities. They realize that the coming business revival should bring increased earnings and higher market quotations.

CELEBRATE FIFTIETH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY.

One of the most interesting affairs given recently, was the reception held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Spahr on South Detroit Street Tuesday, on the occasion of the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Spahr.

The many friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Spahr, were invited to come to their home, during the afternoon and evening, about seventy-five being received to extend their congratulations.

The guests of the day were received by Mr. and Mrs. Spahr, and their ten children and their families. Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Spahr of Xenia, and their four children, William Elizabeth, Lois and Lawrence; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Spahr of Xenia; Mr. Lester Spahr of Columbus, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Spahr, and daughter, Helen of Newark, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Lee Ledbetter and three children, Dorothy, Elwood and Harold of Xenia; Mr. and Mrs. Sherwin Spahr and son Robert of Xenia; Mr. and Mrs. Blaine Spahr of near Cedarville, the Rev. and Mrs. Lester L. Bickett, and three children, Robert, Esther, and Paul, of Rossville, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. Homer Spahr of Xenia, and Mr. Earl Spahr, also of Xenia. The Rev. and Mrs. V. F. Brown, with Mrs. Spahr's sister, Miss Sarah Spahr of Yellow Springs, were also in the receiving line, during the evening.

The rooms of the Spahr home were tastefully decorated for the occasion, with a profusion of golden and white spring blossoms. The refreshments were served during the evening carrying out the color scheme.

The dining table was centered with a handsomely decorated wedding cake, which was baked in the same pan that Mr. and Mrs. Spahr's first wedding cake was baked in, fifty years before. Many beautiful gifts were received during the day by Mr. and Mrs. Spahr, among which was a purse of gold from their children, a chair from the members of Trinity M. E. Church, and a gold headed cane that was sent to Mr. Spahr, from his brother, The Rev. S. K. Spahr of Youngstown, Ohio. An interesting feature of this gift was that the cane was presented to Mr. Spahr's father on the occasion of his fiftieth wedding anniversary in 1854.

Among the guests of the day were only two who witnessed the ceremony that united Mr. and Mrs. Spahr, fifty years ago, his sister, Miss Sarah Spahr of Yellow Springs, and Mrs. Spahr's nephew, Mr. Joseph Conklin, of Xenia.

Mr. and Mrs. Spahr are still interested in the events of the day. Mrs. Spahr is 75 years of age, while Mr. Spahr is 79. They were married in Greene County where they have spent all of their life, being well known and respected citizens.

Ohio Federation Notes.
A one-day towel sale netted the Lancaster federation $65 for the blind, the articles sold being made by the state's blind. Homemade baked lunch brought $90, which will be used for civic and welfare work.

An afternoon musical tea with a program under the auspices of the Lancaster Twentieth Century-Reading circle realized $50 for charity. The program was furnished by the various clubs of the city.

Three speakers have so far this year addressed the Woman's City club at Portsmouth, the speakers being Miss Lucia B. Johnson, of Columbus;

Judith Ben Lindsay, of Denver and Representative Simeon D. Fess, of Yellow Springs. This club is work-planted between Portsmouth and Coling now to have an avenue of trees lumbus and is trying to interest all clubs along the proposed route in a co-operative plan of planting.

The City Federation of Piqua, through its president, Mrs. Allen L. Marshall, chairman of entertainment, civics and welfare committees, in co-operation with School Superintendent G. C. Dietrick and the director of music Philip P. Gates of the public schools, has planned a series of civic concerts. One concert has been given, the talent being taken from the school organizations. It was a splendid success. Other concerts are to follow the last of each month, the talent to be drawn from the civic organizations and trained by Mr. Gates. Through the interest aroused by the first concert, a demand has already been made for a Symphonic orchestra in Piqua.

Miss Genevieve Cline, of Cleveland, chairman of the state federation's legislative committee, addressed a very interesting meeting of the Hyperion club at Nelsonville a short time ago, the meeting being held in the Presbyterian church. Her topic was "Women in Politics." Club women from Athens and Logan and members of the Cosmopolitan and the Woman's Community clubs of Logan attended as guests, among the honored guests being Mrs. E. D. Sayre, of Athens, vice president of the Southeast district. A reception followed at the home of Mrs. N. Hill, president of the Hyperion club. This club is twenty-five years old. It played scales, in three public school buildings this year and furnished money for the serving of milk to the children under weight, but as the serving of milk in the schools proved self-supporting the club took the money it would have donated in this way and gave it toward the purchase of a coupe for the use of the public health nurse.

MRS. ALVAH H. MCCREARY, of Philadelphia, who says nothing she could say for Tanlac would be half gone enough after the way this remarkable medicine has brought back her health.

"It is just glorious to have my health back, and in my opinion there is nothing I can say about Tanlac would be half good enough," said Mrs. Alvah H. McCreary, 1531 Locust St., Philadelphia, Pa.

"For two years I had all the miserable and agonizing symptoms that go with a bad case of stomach trouble. Although I lived on the strictest kind of diet I suffered torture from indigestion and finally my whole system seemed to give way.

"I certainly know how to appreciate the wonderful blessing of good health and I have such confidence in Tanlac that I wish it was in my power to put a bottle of it in the hands of every sick man woman and child so that they might take it and get well and strong, as I have done." Tanlac is sold in Xenia by Sayre & Hemphill, and leading druggists everywhere.

WARNING ISSUED BY LEGION AGAINST FAKE SCHEMES NOW

Warning the general public that fake schemes are being tried to solicit money under the guise that the proceeds will go to the interests of ex-service men, the American Legion has issued a statement calling attention to these practices and urging the public to make sure the local posts have endorsed the matter before they subscribe.

In commenting on this situation, Wednesday, C. L. Darlington, state commander of the American Legion, said:

"The general public throughout the United States is being repeatedly asked to subscribe to various magazines or publications purporting to be printed in the interest of ex-service men, subscriptions frequently being solicited by men claiming to have been in the service. Some of these men were in the service, others were not. Some of the publications were pure and simple. Three times within the last few weeks in Xenia magazines have been offered for sale. Today one called 'Treat 'Em Square' is being circulated. This magazine carries a full page advertisement for the Ku Klux Klan, an organization to which The American Legion is absolutely hostile. If the public wishes to be on the safe side, do not subscribe to anything unless the solicitor has the written endorsement of the post commander of The American Legion Post.

"The Red Cross of Greene County wishes to say that it has not endorsed the above magazine and that it is being sold under misrepresentation.

"I understand that a work on the service of the colored soldier is being sold in Xenia. This work may be of real worth and is not intended to be included with the class of magazines mentioned above."

THE NEW TARIFF ISSUE.

The outstanding feature of the new tariff measure submitted to the senate by its finance committee seems to be its flexibility. It gives the president unusual discretionary powers in the changing of rates to meet trade conditions and even power to bar foreign goods entirely if, in his opinion, trade conditions demand it.

The emergency tariff, which was designed to benefit the agricultural interests of the country, is to be superseded by a system of tariffs on farm products that is expected to give new life to agriculture by protecting it against importations that tend to reduce markets for home producers.

It is estimated that the proposed tariff bill will produce a revenue of more than $300,000,000 annually, but some tariff experts hold that this can be done only at a cost of between two and three billion dollars to the American public in higher cost of living which the new tariff rates will force.

Tariff framers seem not to have revenue raising in mind so much as protection to American industry, and it is admitted that the agricultural interests will be the greatest beneficiaries from the proposed law. This is condoned by the fact that farming and stock raising being the hardest hit by the depression, must be restored to prosperity if the nation generally is to get back upon a sound business basis.

There is much to be done before the senate tariff measure can be passed, as months will be required, it is estimated, for the speeches which will be made for and against the bill. Even after it has been passed by the senate, conferences with house committees to compose differences between the senate measure and the Fordney bill passed by the house will be necessary.

The tariff debates will give the senators employment for two or three months at least, and the political results which may grow out of these discussions may be important to either party—all depending on the extent to which voters can be convinced by the republicans that the measure will bring prosperity, or by the democrats that it will increase the cost of living without alternative benefits.

TO CELEBRATE THE BIRTH OF GENERAL GRANT.

There is something subtle and elusive in human life that ever supports the military leader as an indispensable individual in the life of the nation. When, therefore, we come to give some judgment upon the life of a man of the type of General U. S. Grant, there need to be no apologies for any encomiums woven in memory of his inspired career. General Grant was the personification of the American spirit which displays the power of the most humble individual to rise from the lowest origin to the highest position of honor and respect in the nation. Out of a humble rural home of Scottish ancestry he started on his immortal career. From the first poverty guarded his footsteps while want and meager penury bit at his heels. But he made his own way. No man ever made his path to the front more exclusively by his own abilities than did he. In the truest sense he was a self-made man. To him America was opportunity, the open field of enrichment, the gate of liberty, his forum of triumph. Indeed, no man ever yet was really more than half made who did not make himself. When, therefore, the people of Clermont and Brown Counties of Ohio plan to celebrate at Point Pleasant on the 27th of April the centennial of his birth, all good citizens of the nation should be interested in their undertaking.

FINES WILL PAY FOR DRY LAW ENFORCEMENT.

Revenues from the national prohibition act, through fines collected, should pay many times over the $10,000,000 appropriated for the enforcement of the prohibition statute during the coming year, according to a statement by Roy A. Haynes, in an address given in Philadelphia. He said: "If we were to collect the fines, penalties, and special tax imposed upon violators of the law in the first six months of this administration, they would more than pay two and one-half times the estimated cost of enforcing the prohibition law for the next year." Immediately preceding prohibition, he stated, there was an annual consumption of about 130,000,000 gallons of American-made whisky. During 1920, approximately 12,000,000 gallons of whisky were withdrawn from warehouses under permits, and in 1921 withdrawals were about 3,500,000 gallons. Of the 500 breweries manufacturing near-beer at the beginning of this fiscal year, 285 have been reported for violation of the law, and 95 plants are under seizure by the government.

Big concentration warehouses for the holding of distilled spirits have been provided for under a recently enacted measure. Out of the 38,000,000 gallons of distilled spirits legally held in the United States, about 23,000,000 gallons are in Kentucky, 6,000,000 gallons in Pennsylvania, and approximately 3,000,000 in Maryland. The entire quantity is in 304 warehouses in all parts of the country, and it is planned to cut the number of warehouses down to about 30. These are to be located principally in the larger cities in order to obtain better protection for their contents.

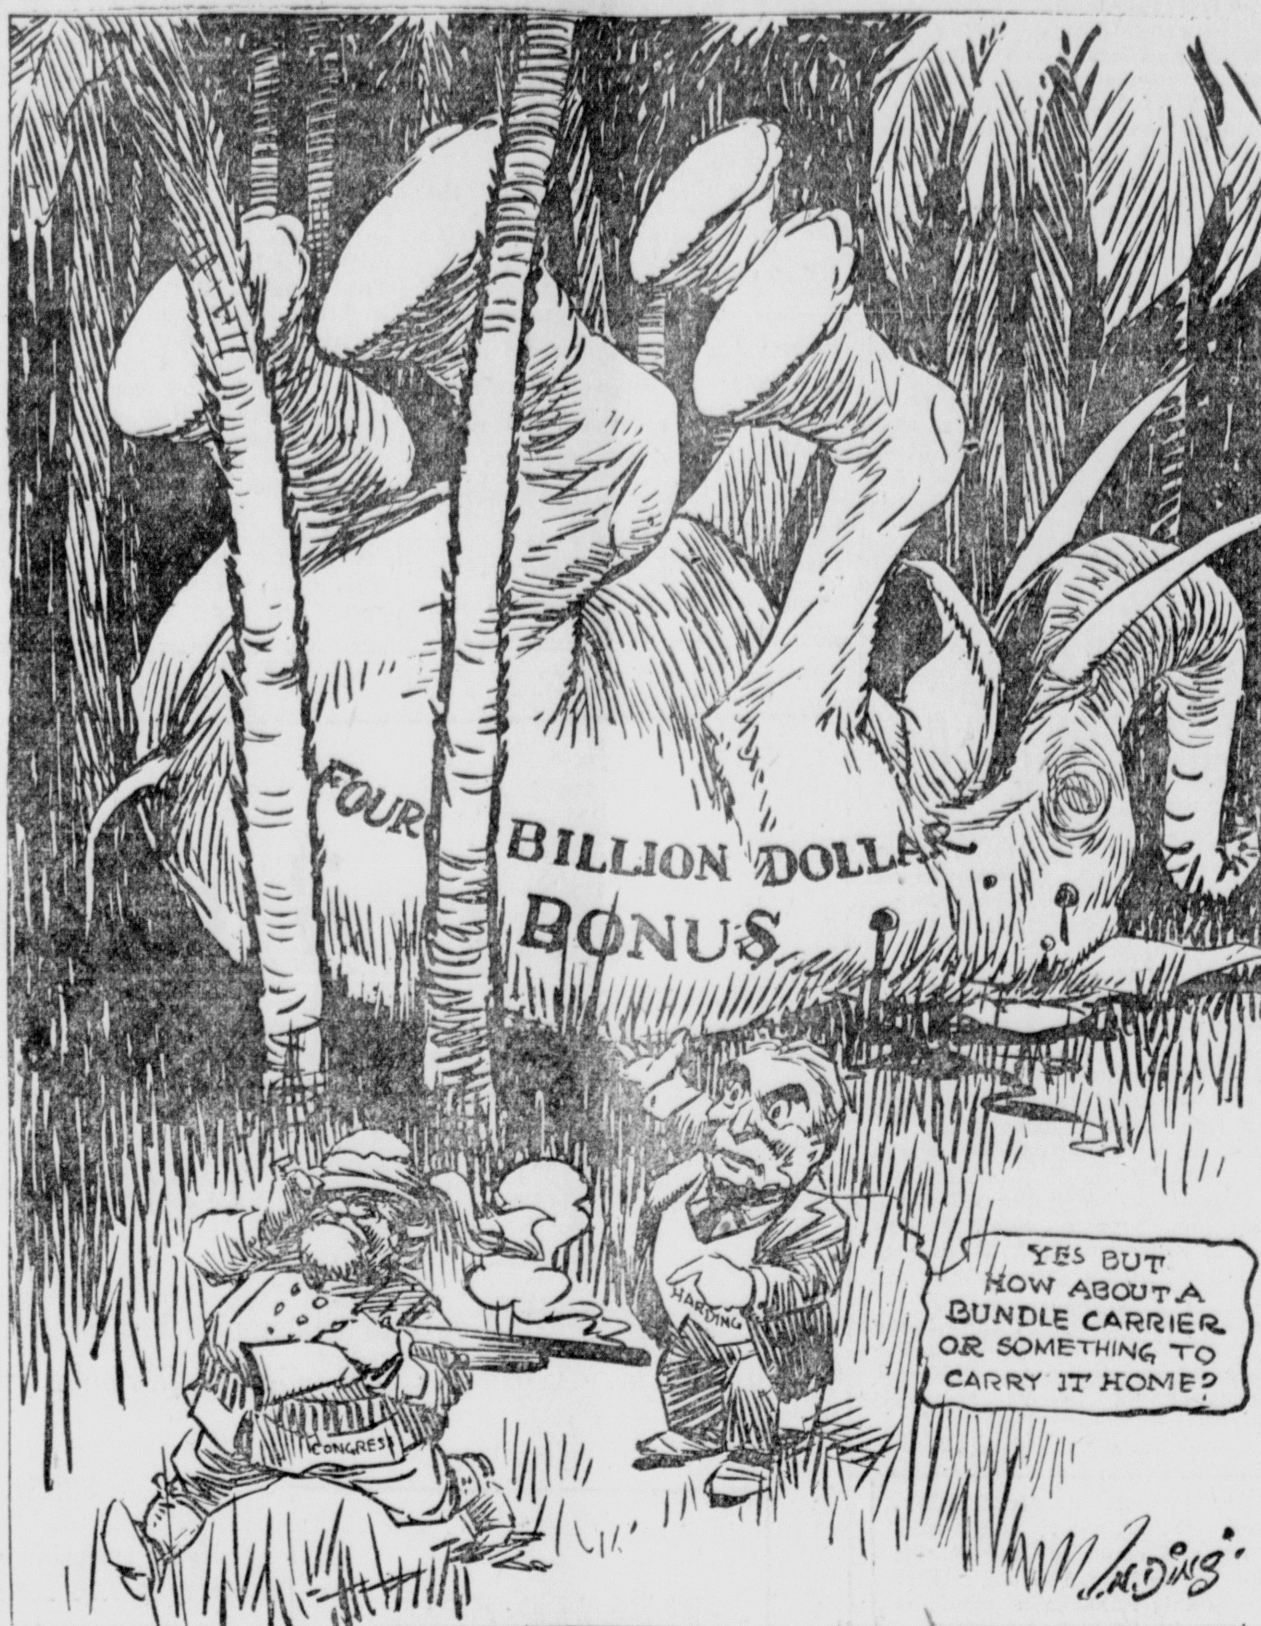

Despite every effort to discredit the prohibition amendment, and to make a mockery of its enforcement, it makes big gains in public favor and public confidence day by day. Our hope is in the new generations. The old toppers will reform or die through drinking poison. The boys and girls of the new generation will be almost 100 per cent free of any alcoholic addiction.

THE CHRISTIAN PHYSICIAN.

It is sometimes said that medical science tends to destroy religious faith. This is said by those who wish it to be true. The falsity of the statement is shown by the great number of earnest Christian physicians to be found in every community. There is no place in life where it is more appropriate and pressingly needful for one to be a Christian than in the case of the physician who deals with so many sorrowful, anxious and dying persons, and where so much spiritual help can be given. Dr. Lorenz, the great Viennese surgeon, now in this country, said recently: "Does medical science, or any other science, tend to destroy belief in God? My friend, you are young. I am old. Science, truly pursued, does not tend to destroy belief in God. The pursuit of scientific knowledge makes an honest man humble. It makes him realize how little he knows. It makes him believe in God."—Herald and Presbytery.

DO AWAY WITH FEAR

We house not one but dozens of natures. Each is dominated however by one of the two great forces that rule our lives—the good or the bad.

Ruling like a tyrant of the destructive type. Fear is the leader of all the forces in the realm of the bad.

Many of our finest impulses are strangled because Fear laughs at us.

During the day when the sun is high and bright, we do not fear to go anywhere. But when it is night, and darkness blots the way before us, Fear comes and trots along and keeps whispering things to us that make us afraid.

In a like manner, when our minds grow dark from confusion and doubt, it is Fear that seeks further to confuse and baffle us.

Honest trust and nobleness of mind is as baffling to Fear as Fear is to faith.

It is possible for you to do away with Fear. It is possible for you to feel sure of your way and of your footing.

Believe that there is a High Leader ship in this world—and that it is with in your grasp.

The other evening I put a simple contrivance to my ears and heard the perfect singing of an artist miles and miles away. Her voice came to me through the air. I could even hear her draw her breath. Could anything be more wonderful?

But suppose I had said that such a thing was an impossibility and had refused to listen? I would have missed a great thrill and another wonder of science and invention would have been veiled from me. Do away with all Fear. One has to trust before he is able to believe!

GUNS.

Oh, the shootings every day! Some one's always being shot, and the dead are borne away to the shady churchyard lot. Some are shot for fifteen cents, some are stricken down for fun; the most frivolous of gents may with ease acquire a gun. There are laws forbidding this, there are laws forbidding that; but no law forbids the bliss of the tough who'd pack a gat. He may have a murder face, he may have a record bad, but he seeks the busy place where revolvers may be had; and if he can show the mon, foolish questions are not plied; he may bear away his gun, ripe for carefree homicide. Shooting, shootings all the time, voters killed, with no excuse; and the carnival of crime still is ramping, raging loose. If you'd buy a dish of beer, a prescription you must gain, from some learned physician near, who has found you have a pain. If you'd buy a poison dire to deplete the rodent swarms, then the druggist will require that you sign some drastic forms. But if you desire a gat, with manslaughter in your mind, there'll be no ordeal like that, no obstructions will you find.

On November 25, 1903, Mr. Smith was united in marriage to Elizabeth Landis of Brookville, Ohio. To this union was born November 20, 1904, one child, Dessie Henrietta.

With the exception of the last three years, all of Mr. Smith's life was spent on the farm where he was born. His mother died 19 years ago, his father preceded him in death 4 years ago last October, and a brother Percy, died in infancy. When a child he was baptised in the Methodist faith. He was a member of the local Moose lodge.

After the death of Mr. Smith's father, the family removed to Xenia, where they resided until May 16, 1921, when they went to Orlando, Fla., where Mr. Smith's death occurred April 19, 1922.

For a great many years Mr. Smith had wanted to go to Florida, and when an opportunity came he severed his ties here among life time friends and neighbors, with great hopes and expectations in the possibilities his future home offered to him. The family settled in Orlando, Fla., where Mr. Smith engaged in the automobile business, and seemed happy and contented in his work. His wife and daughter rejoiced in his satisfaction in his new home and his work, and felt that the fresh air, in life held much for them. He made many friends in Orlando who were grieved at his sudden death.

Mr. Smith was possessed of a cheerful genial disposition, and no task was too great for him, if it meant help for a friend or neighbor. One was always made to feel that he deemed it a pleasure to serve them. He is survived by his wife and daughter, Henrietta. His body will rest by the side of his mother and father in Woodland cemetery.

"A mind, a flower, a vapor and a bubble,
A wheel that stands not still, a trembling reed,
A troling stone, dry dust, light chaff and stuff,
A shadow of something, but truly life indeed."

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to express our appreciation and thanks to each one who so kindly assisted us in our recent bereavement. For the many beautiful flowers, and especially Rev. V. F. Brown for his kindly ministrations.

Mrs. Jesse C. Smith.
Miss Henrietta Smith.

PYTHIAN SISTERS CELEBRATE BIRTHDAY

The celebration of the fourth birthday of the organization of Pythian Sisters, was enjoyed by seventy members of the lodge and their families at the Knights of Pythias Castle Tuesday evening.

RULING IN SLANDER CASE IS UPHELD BY COURT OF APPEALS

A judgment of $500 fixed by a jury in Common Pleas Court as damages against Sarah Christopher in an action for a slander brought by Sarah Nye, both of Jamestown, has been affirmed by the Greene County Court of Appeals in a decision handed down Wednesday.

In the original action, tried here several weeks ago in Common Pleas Court, Mrs. Nye charged that Mrs. Christopher had accused her of stealing a quilt, using the words, "I am missing a quilt, and I think she (meaning the plaintiff) stole my quilt, and you (meaning the plaintiff) know you got that quilt as well as I do. You might have sent it away by parcel post or taken it to your friends."

After the trial jury had returned the $500 judgment, the defendant moved for a new trial which was overruled by the trial court and the defendant in the action then submitted the case to Appellate Court on error. The plaintiffs in error charged errors in the trial court, which the Appellate Court mostly overruled in finding that the verdict was not contrary to the manifest weight of the evidence.

W. A. Paxson, of Jamestown and his son W. S. Paxson of Cincinnati were attorneys for the plaintiff in the original action and Marcus Shoup, of this city, was attorney for the defendant in the slander suit.

RETURN FROM TRIP THROUGH SOUTH

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hull and Mrs. Hull's brother, George Warner, and Mr. and Mrs. William Wright, all of this city have returned home after spending the winter in Florida.

The party motored south and returned in the same manner, spending a week in Washington D. C., on the return trip. The party left here last October by machine, and a report that the Hull family was killed by a train in Tennessee, gained credence here for a time.

The report grew out of a crossing accident in which five people from Columbus, by the name of Hull, were all killed. The local party went south through Tennessee and Georgia and spent the winter in Tampa and other Florida cities.

"I am the original comfort cap."

ON many occasions you would be happier if you could make your cap tighter. On windy days—for outdoor sports—autoing, golfing, motorcycling.

That's where I come in. My little invisible strap enables you to adjust me to any degree of ease or snugness you desire. (Illustrated below).

The very day you try me on in the store you'll observe how precisely I fit your head. But what's more—I retain that accurate fit permanently . . . never vary, never become too roomy or too tight for you.

Yet to look at me you would not think I had any "tricks" under cover. I am smartness itself. I am made of the most modish tweeds and woolsens. Fashionable men, like movie artists and club men, prefer me to any other cap made.

KIWANIS ATTEND SPRINGFIELD MEET

More than 40 members of the Xenia Kiwanis Club attended the Inter-city meeting of Kiwanis organizations of this district at the Arcade Hotel in Springfield, Tuesday evening at which more than five hundred Kiwanians representing eight clubs were present.

A banquet started the festivities, arranged by the Springfield club for the entertainment of guests from Cincinnati, Dayton, Urbana, London, Chillicothe, Greenfield and Xenia. The release of 40 live frogs from silver containers placed on the tables at the start of the meal introduced a novel stunt into the program and the resulting confusion as the frogs leaped over the tables started the affair off with a snap.

The program that followed was varied by the introduction of stunts by several of the visiting clubs. Dayton led off with a radio program, which was to have been featured with an address by Mayor Hale of Dayton. The presence of considerable static electricity interfered with the plan and only a few remarks of the mayor were heard in Springfield. A mental telepathy demonstration staged by R. H. Tomlinson of the London Club was well received.

A number of prominent guests were introduced by A. C. Link, district governor, among whom were Judges Ferneding, Allread and Kunkle of the District Court of Appeals, and Judge James Johnson of the Ohio Supreme Court.

The address of the evening was delivered by Wilfred Catez, St. Thomas, Ontario, who touched on the affairs of the neighboring country. He urged attendance at the convention to be held in Toronto in June.

A minstrel show by the Urbana Club concluded the program.

Styles

In the most fashionable dresses to be seen at the exclusive shops the general line of the bodice remains long, with the waistline placed low. In many of the dresses the long bodice follows the contours of the bust. Not tightly, but just snugly enough to suggest a graceful curve and is then mounted without the aid of a girdle, on a skirt that is rather full.

The idea is illustrated in the good-looking frock shown here and it may be seen that its chief note is youthfulness. For this frock the much favored "blistered" silk is used, white for the top and golden brown for the skirt—which, by the way, is about ten inches from the ground—and brown and dull gold braid are used as trimmings.

SAYS BUSINESS MEN OF FAR EAST KNEW OF TREATY

London, April 25.—The Pall Mall Gazette, political organ of the coalition government, of England, in an article today asserts that business men of the far East have known for weeks that the Russians and Germans were planning an economic alliance through a treaty.

The Pall Mall Gazette intimates that Washington had this information and therefore refused to enter conference at the invitation of the allies.

DO YOU GET UP NIGHTS ON ACCOUNT OF BLADDER?

This Symptom Tells You Something Is Wrong. A Dayton Man's Experience.

Mr. John Lumpkins, 7 Carrie St., Dayton, Ohio, says in his own home paper, the Dayton Herald: "For two years I had to get up fifteen to twenty times each night. The scalding and pain was awful. After taking a few doses of Lithiated Buchu, the gravel came until at least twenty-five pieces have passed. Some were as large as a bean. I am glad to have this way of telling my fellow sufferers about this great new remedy."

Lithiated Buchu acts on the kidneys and bladder like Epsom Salts on the bowels. It cleans them out and helps to relieve the bladder of abnormal deposits. The tablets cost 2c each. This price makes it possible to place in the formula several expensive drugs which are useful for relief. The formula is on the package. It is likely you have never taken anything similar. Try a few doses for backache, scalding, scanty or high colored urine and frequent desire at night.

Be sure to get the Keller formula Lithiated Buchu at Sayre & Hemphill's and drug stores everywhere. Write The Keller Laboratory, Medical Building, Ohio.

ALLEN HAINES IS CALLED BY DEATH

Word was received Wednesday of the death of Allen Haines, who died at his home in Springfield, at two o'clock, Wednesday morning, from a complication of diseases.

Funeral services will be held at the home at 10 o'clock, Friday morning. Burial will be made at Woodland Cemetery, in this city at one o'clock.

Mr. Haines was a resident of Greene County for many years, having lived at both Jamestown and Cedarville. He leaves his wife, and two daughters, Mrs. Harry Ramsey, of Boston, Massachusetts, and Miss Lucille at home.

Mrs. Amos Tonkinson of the Springfield pike is a sister of the deceased and I. T. Cummins of this city is a brother-in-law.

BEAUTY CHATS

FACIAL ASTRINGENTS

The other day I gave a formula for the astringent lotion which the great Sarah Bernhardt is supposed to use. It is made by combining:

- 60 grains of alum.
- 1 1-2 ounces of almond milk.
- 6 ounces of rosewater.

The alum is the astringent part. It should certainly draw up the sagging muscles of the skin. Used by itself of course alum is much too strong and too drying, therefore it is combined with almost milk, which is nourishing and a little bleaching, and with rosewater which simply acts as a convenient base. This is so easy to make that every woman can have some if she wants.

The great standard astringent is tincture of benzoin. A little of the tincture may be added to the cold water in which the face is rinsed, enough so that the water takes on a milky shade. Or it may be mixed with rosewater and the milky solution kept in a bottle on the bathroom shelf to be patted into the skin after the face has been washed and dried.

Another excellent astringent and bleach is starch and water. I have a friend who lived in Kentucky when she was a girl and who possessed one of the most beautiful of complexions. She had the real rose petal skin, so fine and delicate that she was the envy of every woman who saw her. She told me that when she was a child she was supposed to be protected by wide sun bonnets, but whenever it was known that she threw off her sun bonnet her skin—when she came home—was coated with white starch and cold water. It was to this treatment, she says, that she owes her lovely complexion.

Miami—The benefit gained from eating an ounce or two of raising each day would be a small amount of iron and if you were underweight, you would gain through the sugar in them, which would be converted into fatty tissue.

V. C.—After the skin has been allowed to get flabby, it will take some time to make it firm, but it can be done by giving it the proper care. Use enough cream to keep the skin soft and well nourished and an astringent once or twice each week to contract the pores and encourage firmness. If you could take some professional treatments it would hasten your recovery.

J. W. L.—I shall be glad to mail you the formula for the eyelash tonic, on receipt of a stamped addressed envelope.

Tomorrow—The Henna Shampoo.

ROTARY ENTERTAINED AT WASHINGTON C. H.

Dr. B. R. McClellan and C. L. Darlington, of the Xenia Club, gave informal talks after the dinner. The program of the meeting was entirely informal.

Without organic iron, both food and Vitamines are absolutely useless as your body cannot change inert, lifeless food into living cells and tissue unless you have plenty of organic iron in your blood. Organic iron takes up oxygen from your lungs. This oxygenated organic iron enters into your blood just as fire enters with coal or wood, and by so doing it creates tremendous power and energy. Without organic iron in your blood your food merely passes thru your body without doing you any good.

JUST GOT OVER A COLD?

Look out for kidney trouble and backache. Colds overtax the kidneys and often leave them weak. For weak kidneys—well, read what an Xenia woman says:

Mrs. Hannah A. Reed, 520 W. Second St., says: "There were times when I stooped while washing that I got severe stabs of pain through my back, and I could hardly rise again. My back was so stiff. When I got up mornings I was lame and tired. My back throbbed in the morning just as if I had been pounded with a club. My kidneys were irregular in action and caused me annoyance. Colds settled on my kidneys and this started my trouble. About three boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills, which were highly recommended to me, relieved me of those pains in my back. My kidneys became normal and regular in every way."

L. D. PARKER AGAIN EMPLOYED AS HEAD OF SCHOOL WORK

L. D. Parker, superintendent of schools in Cedarville Township and Cedarville village, was re-employed for three years, by the Board of Education at a meeting, Tuesday night.

The superintendent's salary the first year will be $2,500, the second year it will be $2,550 and the third year of his contract he will receive $2,600. The action of the board makes Superintendent Parker the best paid township or village school superintendent in the county.

Cedarville High School is one of the ten first grade high schools in the county outside of Xenia, and is the only school among these that is an accredited high school. Because the Cedarville High School is accredited by the North-Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, which means that graduates of that school are admitted to any college or university on the strength of their diploma, without a preliminary examination.

ELECTION OFFICIAL ACQUITTED BY JURY

Harry V. Spencer, of Blanchester, accused of having counted and certified ballots falsely in the 1921 municipal election in Blanchester, was acquitted by a jury in Clinton County Common Pleas Court, Tuesday night, after a trial that had lasted several days.

Spencer was an election official last November. The contests involved were those arising out of the election of members of the village council. It was charged that candidates certified by Spencer as having been elected really received fewer votes than the totals counted for them on the face of the returns.

The case was given to the jury Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock and the jury deliberated several hours before reaching a decision.

REGULATION OF RADIO PROVIDED

Washington, April 25.—Federal regulation of all radio communication is approved by Secretary of Commerce Hoover in a bill being framed by Representative White, Republican of Maine, for introduction in the house next week. It was announced today. The legislation has been in the making for nearly two years. After the preliminary draft of the bill was completed by White, he submitted it to the department of commerce where many changes were made by government radio experts.

MILLIONAIRE AND WIFE REUNITED

Boston, Mass., April 26.—Birth of a baby boy has reunited Charles Garland, Millionaire idealist and his wife, Mary Wrenn Garland. This became known today when it was learned that Garland was present at the Massachusetts General Hospital, when his wife gave birth to their second child. The first was a daughter, but advent of the son is said to have banished Garland's theories of free love and soul mates.

Garland surprised the country when he refused a bequest of more than a million dollars declaring Christ would have refused to become a millionaire.

He was quoted as declaring love should be allowed to take its own course, and not to be hampered by matrimonial bonds.

FEDERAL CONTROL NOT CONTEMPLATED

Washington, April 26.—President Harding's plan for the establishment of permanent peace in the coal industry does not contemplate government supervision of operation of the mines, it was stated officially at the white house yesterday.

There have been no developments in the strike situation, it was said and the administration is not yet prepared to make all the details of its peace plan.

URBANA TAILOR MISSING

Urbana, April 26.—No word had been received regarding the whereabouts of Charles H. Oonk the missing Urbana tailor, now absent from his home and business since Monday. No searching parties went out Friday and Saturday and those interested are depending upon a plan of sending cards with his picture and description to a number of city police departments in hope of locating him in that manner.

SUGARCREEK TOWNSHIP AND BELLBROOK VILLAGE VOTE TO ISSUE $30,000 MORE SCHOOL BONDS FOR CENTRALIZATION

By the small majority of eight votes, the voters of Sugarcreek Township and Bellbrook village, voted to issue $30,000 worth more of school bonds to supplement the $30,000 worth of bonds voted for three years ago, to carry out centralization of schools, Tuesday.

The issue lost in the township by 12 votes but carried in the village by 20 votes, giving a total of eight votes in favor of the project. The actual vote was as follows:

Township	Village	Totals
For—116	79	195
Against—129	59	187

The majority vote makes it possible for the board of education to carry out plans to centralize the entire Township school district, provide trucks for transportation of pupils, and include in the plans for the new centralized school, an auditorium, which it is planned to use as a community center.

The board, three years ago, placed the proposition of an $80,000 bond issue for the purpose of centralization before the people, and it carried. Because of the fact that building material at that time was high, the board agreed not to begin building operations until lower prices prevailed, and the money has not been used.

The second issue of $30,000 was proposed in order to provide sufficient funds to carry out centralization of the entire district, in order to provide trucks for transportation and in order to build an auditorium in the school, which was not included in the original tentative plans for the centralized building. The auditorium will be open to the public as a community center.

Because of the fact that the original bond issue was passed during inflated times, it is now believed that the expenses of building will not be as high as originally anticipated, and the board feels that it will not have to consume the entire $110,000 voted in carrying out its centralization plans.

The actual work of carrying out the centralization plans will begin at once by the board, since it has been given the financial support of the citizens. Plans will be adopted, and contracts let as soon as possible, in order to lose no time in converting the district from a one-room rural school district to a centralized district.

The close vote on the $30,000 issue voted on Tuesday was anticipated. Friends of the movement were not too optimistic of the second issue passing when it came to a vote.

U. S. MAY HAVE SOMETHING TO SAY

Washington, April 25.—By maintaining strict silence now concerning the work of the Genoa conference, the United States government is preparing the way for an expression of opinion at the time when it will do the most good.

This conviction was expressed here today in high official circles when it was indicated that the Harding administration will have some interesting things to say to the participating powers if the decisions reached at Genoa are contrary to the interest of this government.

FOUR DANCING FEET

BY JANE PHELPS

"Wake up, Gertie! When a fellow is givin' you a swell time you don't get nowhere by havin' a frozen face all the time. Be like me. Them fellows Jim Denton and the rest, know just how far they can go with me that there's no chance of gettin' any further. But a kiss never hurt no girl, and if they want to hug you a little, that don't hurt none either. Get down off your perch and you'll have a good time."

"I hate it, Lilly, I can't do—as you do. Perhaps it is all right as you say but I can't feel that way. It seems cheap and horrid. Mother says men don't think well of girls that do those things."

"What does she know about it? She's old-fashioned, and ain't never been out none. There comes the boys, now chirp up, Be a sport!"

"I wish we might sit on the beach a while," Gertie said longingly when a return to Larimore's was proposed.

"What'd you take us for dead ones? Jim Denton asked, and Gertie said no more, but meekly trailed along to the dance hall.

But she was unhappy, her gayety forced.

"I'm no good, Lilly, I can't enjoy myself," she whispered, "and we must get home, I might lose my job if I was late. Sunday is a big night at Fagin's."

"You don't have to go there no more unless you want to," Len overheard, told her.

"What do you mean?" Gertie asked.

"Just what I say. You know I'm stuck on you, there's no girl I like so well, just let's git spliced Jim and Lilly will be witnesses—

"You mean—" Gertie interrupted.

"Marry me, yes! Ain't I good enough for you? I make good money, Gertie, and honest I'm fond of you—crazy about you."

"Oh—I never thought—I don't want to get married, Len. You're all right," Gertie added as she saw his face darken, "but I shall stay with ma for a long time—maybe always. She and the kids need me."

"I ain't sayin' I won't help them—a little, if you'd be my missis."

"No, Len, please don't say any more about it. Let's have one more dance then I'll have to go. You don't have to go, Len, just put me on the subway, then you can come back. There's lots of girls here and you could stay all the evening if it wasn't for me."

"You've said a mouthful! But I ain't no welcher. I takes a girl home when I takes her out even if she has given me the shake."

Gertie said no more. This her first proposal, had shocked and disgusted her; wounded her as well. In the stories Tom Norris had recommended men didn't ask girls to marry them in public places, and before other people. Instinctively she knew Tom would not have done so. Yet she knew Len O'Connor would be considered a good match for a poor girl like her—who could take care of her. He would perhaps be good to her family too. But she couldn't even pretend to want him, although she knew her mother would be willing, perhaps disappointed that she had not married him.

Len was a man with a good trade were.

At the last moment, Lilly too decided to go back, although she had said she didn't care if Rosenberg did discharge her if she stayed away. But it was a quiet, rather sulky foursome that pushed their way into the subway.

The good time Lilly had promised Gertie, the day she had thought would be a pleasure had turned out badly. It wasn't Lilly's fault, she didn't even blame Len. It was herself! She just couldn't enjoy such parties. Something in her rebelled at the coarseness the freedom.

"I guess I'm no good," she told Lilly after the two young men had left them—Jim Denton with a kiss from Lilly, Len scowling and cross because Gertie denied him.

"I'll tell the world you ain't! Not when it comes to havin' a good time. Why you'd turn a fire into a frost, the way you act. I'd like to know what you think you'll git by actin' so? I shan't make plans for you again. I'll take some girl along that's got a little pep, that ain't afraid to be decent to a fellow who spends his money."

"I wish you would Lilly," Gertie answered almost sadly because she couldn't be like other girls—yet knowing she would have herself if she
